Quinn Elected to National Board for Community Banks

Peach State Bank president is former state chair for community bankers' association

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (Oct., 2021) — Ron Quinn, president and CEO of Peach State Bank & Trust, has been elected to the Delegate Board for the Independent Community Bankers of America (ICBA).

Based in Washington, D.C., the ICBA is the primary trade group for community banks in the United States, representing approximately 5,000 small- and mid-sized community banks.

"I believe community banks play a vital role in the areas they serve," Quinn said. "Our support of consumers and small businesses spurs economic growth, and now I look forward to serving as an advocate on a national level."

As a delegate, Quinn will help shape and support ICBA's national policy positions and programs while serving as a liaison between community banks in Georgia and ICBA's staff and leadership.

Quinn is a former chairman of the Community Bankers Association of Georgia and now serves as a member-at-large. He has led Peach State Bank & Trust since its founding in 2005. This year, the bank reached a major growth milestone in surpassing the $500 million mark in total assets.

Peach State Bank is operated by Peach State Bancshares, a locally owned and operated bank holding company. Based in downtown Gainesville at 325 Washington Street, the bank has more than 60 management and staff members. Peach State Bank offers personal and business loans and deposit services supported by a full array of online technologies.
